For every one of us, dealing with time, schedules, and deadlines to serve our clients and work with our colleagues are things that we cannot simply avoid. So, the Department of Science and Technology, once again, is leading the nation to encourage everyone to support the advocacy for the observance of the National Time Consciousness Week (NTCW) this coming January 1-7, 2023.

As we bid goodbye to 2022 and welcome 2023, the DOST remains at the forefront of promoting the National Time Consciousness Week (NTCW) with the theme "Oras Pinas: Tamang Oras Tungo sa Maunlad na Pilipinas" to synchronize all timepieces across the country.

This year's theme is anchored on promoting the culture of punctuality, of being on time, and in giving mutual respect for each other's time. The wise use of time serves as key driver in building a progressive nation that aspires for inclusive growth and development.
