OF THE BEST QUALITIES OF A PUBLIC SERVANT

GRIT
Getting something done in government doesn't just take good ideas, it takes tenacity and relentlessness. Excellent governing has the power to make people's lives better. But that doesn't mean it's easy.

TECH-SAVVY
Big data may be the most boringly named revolution in history, but that doesn't mean it isn't going to become as ubiquitous and essential as electricity. Knowing the number for IT isn't going to cut it any more.

COLLABORATION
'It's amazing what you can accomplish if you do not care who gets the credit.' So said President Truman, and it's never been more true than today.

INTERNATIONALISM
Every country in the world has thousands of public servants trying to solve closely comparable problems than closely comparable ways. Why reinvent the wheel?

AN APPETITE FOR RISK
It's very difficult to get fired in government, so, paradoxically enough, it may be the exactly the right place to try something new.

OPTIMISM
Working in government is difficult. But it's also the most powerful institution in the country, capable of doing things that no other organisation could imagine. It's a great responsibility, but it's great power, too.
