THE STATE OF MENTAL HEALTH IN THE PHILIPPINES

THE MENTAL HEALTH ACT & UNIVERSAL HEALTH CARE LAW

was established to enhance the delivery of mental health services and to promote and protect the rights of the Filipinos utilizing psychiatric, neurologic, and psychosocial health services. However...

5% Only 5% of the healthcare expenditure is directed toward mental health services.

≥3.6 million Filipinos suffer from at least one kind of mental, neurological, or substance use disorder

The Philippines has the third highest rate of mental disorders in the Western Pacific Region.

STIGMA AND DISCRIMINATION

toward mental issues became part of the Filipino culture, and this has greatly affected the people and the economy.

The increasing prevalence of mental illnesses also made a huge impact in the country and to the human, social, and economic capital.

The Philippines is a developing country that struggles to obtain economic stability because of outdated ways that result in gaps in mental health promotion, which in turn bleed into the economy.
